Editorial team

Geetanjali Gangoli School for Policy Studies, University of Bristol (Joint Editor)

Tony Fitzpatrick School of Sociology and Social Policy, University of Nottingham (Joint Editor)

Simon Pemberton School for Policy Studies, University of Bristol (Associate Editor)

"Policy & Politics has become a leading journal tackling policy issues concerning East Asia as well as other parts of the world. It now provides an indispensable academic forum for Asian policy practitioners and academics."

Professor Huck-ju Kwon
Seoul National University, Korea

Aims and scope

Policy & Politics is the leading journal in public policy with an enviable reputation for publishing peer-reviewed papers of the highest quality. It explores the fit between theory and empirical applications and links macro-scale political economy debates with micro-scale policy studies. The journal is unique in cutting across a wide range of policy areas with an increasingly international reach.

Abstracting and indexing

Policy & Politics is consistently ranked in the top ten in Public Administration with an impact factor of 0.910 in the 2007 ISI Social Science Citation Index.

Policy & Politics scored 'A' in the 2007 Australian Research Council (ERA) Research Journal Ranking Review List.

Online access

Policy & Politics is regularly in the top 100 of the most popular downloaded journals on IngentaConnect. Exclusive pre-publication access to selected articles is available for online subscribers.

David Gough Institute of Education, University of London (Joint Managing Editor)

James Blewett King's College, London (Practice and Resources Editor)

“This is a journal that many researchers, decision makers and public service providers have been waiting for.”

Professor Haluk Soydan
University of Southern California

“Evidence-based policy is the watchword today in many countries and with many international organizations. This journal is the place to explore its many meanings, how it is operationalized and how it works. A journal worth reading!”

Professor Tom Cook
Northwestern University

Aims and scope

Evidence & Policy is the first peer-reviewed journal dedicated to comprehensive and critical assessment of the relationship between research evidence and the concerns of policy makers and practitioners, as well as researchers. International in scope and interdisciplinary in focus, it addresses the needs of those who provide public services and those who provide the research base for evaluation and development across a wide range of social and public policy issues – from social care to education, from public health to criminal justice.

As well as more traditional research articles, the journal includes contemporary debate pieces, articles from practice and an invaluable sources and resources section.
