

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Policy & Politics

Submission of articles

Authors should submit their articles electronically to the editors at tpp-pp@bristol.ac.uk. The author's name and address should be on a separate page at the beginning of the article. Articles should include an abstract of not more than 100 words and four key words and be between 5,000 and 8,000 words in length (including references and endnotes).

Articles accepted for review are evaluated anonymously by at least two referees currently working in the field of policy studies. The final decision on publication rests with the editors.

Debate section Submissions: please email to laura.greaves@bristol.ac.uk (main Debate articles to be a maximum of 1,000 words; responses to Debate articles to be a maximum of 500 words). Discussion/enquiries: please correspond with Simon Pemberton (s.a.pemberton@bristol.ac.uk). This section is not peer-reviewed.

For other editorial queries please contact the editors on tel +44 (0)117 954 6755 • fax +44 (0)117 954 6756 • email tpp-pp@bristol.ac.uk

It is assumed that submitted articles have not been published elsewhere and that they are not under consideration for publication by other journals. The author should state whether s/he is publishing related articles elsewhere. Articles are considered for publication on the understanding that on acceptance the entire copyright shall pass to The Policy Press as Publisher of Policy & Politics. Authors will be asked to sign a copyright agreement to this effect. All authors should agree to this assignment. For jointly authored articles the senior author may sign on behalf of co-authors provided that s/he obtains their written consent for copyright assignment. Where copyright is not owned by the author(s), eg where an article was written by an author in the course of his/her employment, the form should be signed by the copyright holder's authorised agent. The copyright assignment form and notes accompanying it will be sent by the The Policy Press to the author with page proofs. For copies of the form and notes about assignment in advance please contact The Policy Press. Requests for permission to reproduce any part of articles published in Policy & Politics should be addressed to The Policy Press.

Style

- British English spelling and punctuation is preferred.
- Non-discriminatory language is mandatory. Further guidance may be found in The Policy Press editorial guidelines (www.policypress.co.uk/PDFs/General/EditorialGuidelines.pdf – Appendix B: Sensitive language).
- Explanatory notes should be kept to a minimum. If it is necessary to use them, they must be numbered consecutively in the text and listed at the end of the article. Please do not embed notes in the text.
- Figures/diagrams/maps: please do not embed in the text. Files should be saved as one of the following formats: PostScript or EPS (encapsulated PostScript). Further information may be found in The Policy Press editorial guidelines.
- References: the Harvard system of referencing is used. Publications should be cited in the text, giving the author's surname and year of publication in brackets, then listed in full at the end of the paper. Book and journal titles should be in italics and should (apart from the first letter of the first word and of proper nouns) be set in lower case. Website details should be placed last. Please do not include dates of access to websites.

Example of book reference: Nutley, S.M., Walter, I. and Davies, H.T.O. (2007) Using evidence: How research can inform public services, Bristol: The Policy Press.

Example of journal reference: Sin, C.H. (2008) 'The role of intermediaries in getting evidence into policy and practice: some useful lessons from examining consultancy–client relationships', Evidence & Policy, 4 (1): 85-103.

Example of chapter within multi-authored publication: Levitas, R. (2000) 'What is social exclusion?', in D. Gordon and P. Townsend (eds) Breadline Europe: The measurement of poverty, Bristol: The Policy Press.

Policy & Politics is published by The Policy Press on behalf of the School for Policy Studies at the University of Bristol. The School undertakes policy research, teaching (undergraduate, postgraduate, professional and short courses) and consultancy work. It has four centres for research:

- Family Policy and Child Welfare
- Health and Social Care
- Study of Poverty and Social Justice
- Urban Studies

The School for Policy Studies is an interdisciplinary organisation focusing on the analysis, development and implementation of policy. In all its work it is committed to linking theory and practice across different policy areas. The School for Policy Studies seeks to promote equality of opportunity and to counter discrimination in all its activities.
